Interests allied with John H. Hoogers, probably the largest handler of cotton in the State of Virginia, have purchased valuable property fronting on Elisabeth River. The tract is bordered on one side by the Norfolk Warehouse Association and on the other by property owned by B. B. Harrell and Mr. Ferebee.

A young woman has applied for permission to see the execution of Sam Watters next Friday, and her request will be granted. That is, of course, unless the Governor intervenes and commutes Watters' sontence and if her nerve holds out. Ordinarily, only physicians, officers and newspaper men see executions, and if the young woman is allowed to be present she will be the first woman is the history of Norfolk to see a hanging. Attorney Doran is awaiting the decision of Governor Montague and is hopeful of saving his diant's life.

Judge H. Waddill will be here en Tuesday, It is likely that he will deliver opinions in some of the important cases which has no been able to decide because of the stress of work. One of these is the case of Mrs. Laura Carr, in which the young woman of Portsmouth is suing the ferryboat, the City of Portsmouth for 190,000 as the result of injuries ractived on the beat. There are no special cases set for trial, but it is kely that cases which are rendy for argument may be heard. William Stone, colored, died at the St. Wincent Hospital capity this morning. He was brought there yesterday from the Bernes box factory, at Girmerton. While employed in the box factory yesterday afternoon Stone was scalded by the bursting of a steam pipe in the factory. He was brought to the hospital for treatment, but the injuries were too severates him to survive.

At § o'clock last night Judge Waddill adjourned the jury over until 10 o'clock to-morrow morning, they having had the case for nearly three hours and failed to reach a verdict. The case is a complicated one, and there were as many as twenty instructions given the jury, many of which were very intricate. The case involves the right of Mr. Peters to manufacture and handle artificial limbs, upon which Mr. Hanger claims a patent right. It is likely that the jury may get together to-morrow, though there are many who believe that they will never finally come together.

SAD STORY TOLD OF SEPARATION

Petition for an Absolute Di vorce Filed in Norfolk Brings to Publicity Estrangem't.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

NORFOLK, VA., April 18.—A petition for absolute divorce, filed this morning in the Chancery Court, has revealed a strange story. A husband long thought dead has been brought to light in a way that is startling. The petition was filed by attorneys for Fletcher Yuille, of Campbell county, on the ground that his wife, nearly ten years ago, deserted him and will not return. The wife, Sally B. Yuille, now a trained nurse, has been living in Norfolk for years, and now stays, with her fourteen-year-old child, at No. 85 South Cumberland Street.

In the petition for divorce Mr. Yuille says it is a case of willful desertion and abandonment. He claims further, that not since he and his wife me tin Lynchburg in October, 1901, has he seen Mrs. Yuille, There were three children by the union. One now lives with the mother here, and the oldest and youngest, sixteen and the oldest and youngest, sixteen and the wide years of age, respectively, have a home with their grandmother in Hallfax county.

The wife, however, tells a different tale. "For years I have not heard from my husband," sald she this morning, "and about two years ago came the report that he was dead. No newspaper men have called, and I know not that Mr. Yuille was dead. No newspaper men have called, and I know not that Mr. Yuille was dead.
